

Where can I connect this ?

Nope, sorry,
the grid's full

Greetings from the European Consumer Organisation!

You are going to vote on the Renewables Directive, setting the direction and pace of Europe's transition to clean energy. European consumers want to be a part of this change and can help meet Europe's target of being n°1 on renewables. But this ambition is at risk. They need your vote.

- Self-consumers should not face undue economic and administrative burdens, such as complex processes for permits.
- Self-consumers should have easy access to the grid.
- Self-consumers should not be forced to adapt to a system designed for big generators. Please keep the priority dispatch and exemptions to balancing responsibilities for consumers.

The Consumer Voice in Europe

www.beuc.eu

Member of the European Parliament,

Brussels/Strasbourg
